ists: Another Is Menaced

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, July 30.—President Borja of Honduras was reported to-day in dispatches received here to have imprisoned all the leaders of the parties headed by Vice-President Membreño and General Lopez Gutierrez, as a result of a revolution proclaimed recently.

Prisons throughout the Republic of Honduras are full, according to these dispatches. Many prominent citizens are said to have taken refuge in the American Legation.

Dr. Zuran, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Honduras, is a refugee in the American Legation at Tegucigalpa, while Dr. Lopez Padilla, former Honduran Minister to Nicaragua, and Dr. Saturnino Meda, once magistrate of the Tegucigalpa Court and a delegate to the Central American Peace Conference, in 1907, have been imprisoned in Tegucigalpa.

General Lopez Gutierrez, accompanied by 200 persons, is said to have escaped from Tegucigalpa to have succeeded in repulsing government troops. His supporters in the departments of Paraiso and Valle were reported to be carrying on guerrilla warfare.

SAN SALVADOR, July 30.—The town of Danli, close to the Nicaraguan frontier, has been captured by revolutionists in Honduras, according to dispatches published here to-day. In the fighting, Colonel Jacinto Aguilar, leader of the Gutierrez party, was killed.

General Francisco Arguel, with 400 revolutionists, is reported to be within a few miles of Tegucigalpa, threatening Honduras, preparing to attack it.

Story Revolt Originated
In Nicaragua Denied

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Official advice from Managua received to-day by the Nicaraguan Legation here said reports that the revolution in Honduras originated in Nicaragua were unfounded. Dr. Jesus Elias, Honduran charge d'affaires at Managua, was quoted as saying Honduras had no complaint against Nicaragua.

The advice also said the Honduran general, Pangua, and his companions who recently tried to leave Managua secretly, presumably to take part in the revolution, had been arrested.

NC-4 Is Damaged by
High Wind; a Place
For Recruit in Crew

Famous 'Plane, When Repaired, Will Go on Tour
to Gain Enlistments; Marines Need Mechanics

While the NC-4 was being dismantled for shipment to Rockaway yesterday, one of the plane's wings, caught by the high wind, was blown across the sheep meadow in Central Park and damaged. Navy men here reported that the plane was damaged by high wind made at the naval air station by members of the original crew assisted by men who are now being enlisted at 34 East Twenty-third Street for duty at Rockaway.

There is an opportunity for a skilled mechanic to become a member of the NC-4's flight crew, Lieutenant M. F. Eddy, in charge of aviation recruiting in this district, announced. The NC-4, when repairs are completed, will start on a protracted recruiting tour. Frequent stops will be made to demonstrate aviation work. One member of the NC-4 crew has just been honorably discharged and has obtained an excellent position in civilian life because of his training in naval aviation. His plane will be filled by one of the recruits from 34 East Twenty-third Street.

Navy Needs More Men

Lieutenant G. M. O'Rear, of the U. S. S. Arizona, is still accepting men for service on the ship he represents.

The air service has advanced to the lead in the recruiting drive by signing nineteen recruits. The Motor Transport Corps was second yesterday with five recruits. The Quartermaster Corps third with thirteen. Out of a total of 242 applicants, seventy were accepted for all branches of the army.

More than 100 mechanics are needed for service in the Marine Corps before the end of August. Men may enlist at the Marine Recruiting Bureau, 21 East Twenty-third Street.

Recruits will be sent for training to Paris Island, S. C., and then to Camp Lakeside, Ill. They will receive fifty cents daily in addition to the regular pay for privates in the Marine Corps.

and Vast Amount of Eggs
in Warehouses

Senators to Plan
Policy for Repeal of War Taxes To-day

Finance Committee Meeting
Called by Penrose After Hearings in Lower House
on Bill to Kill Soda Duty

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Formulation of a definite policy as to legislation modifying various provisions of the war revenue act of 1918, against which many protests have been received, will be discussed at a meeting to-morrow of the Senate Finance Committee. The call for the meeting was issued by Chairman Penrose late to-day, following hearings on House bills repealing the soda water tax and substituting a tax of 2 cents a gallon on fruit juice beverages for the present 10 per cent gross sales tax.

As proposals have been made in the House looking to the repeal of the luxury taxes, as well as certain of the excise taxes, such as imposts on candy, sporting goods and furs, Senate leaders feel that the question as to how far Congress is to go in this matter should be determined at once. Many Senators feel that if one section of the bill is repealed modifications of other provisions will be demanded which as one Senator said to-day, will bring a "Pandora Box of trouble."

Policemen in Election
Scandal Lose Appeal

Philadelphians Must Serve Sentences Unless Their Counsel
Makes New Move

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to-day refused to entertain an appeal for a new trial for the convicted policemen in the 5th Ward Election conspiracy case, and unless counsel contemplates some further legal action the men will have to surrender themselves within ten days to undergo sentences.

The defendants are Lieutenant David Bennett, sentenced to eighteen months, and Lieutenants John Wineschaffer, Michael Murphy, Emanuel Uram, Louis Feldman, 60 years and $400 fine, and Clarence Hayden, six months and $200 fine.

The conspiracy case grew out of an election contest for leadership in the ward in September, 1917. There was much disorder and one policeman was killed by a member of a gang brought into the ward by the conspirators. Fifteen years in the penitentiary and other members of the gang shortly thereafter.

Strength

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Reduction in rank or discharge of more than 1,300 officers of the Marine Corps was announced to-day by Major General Barnett as a part of the programme of reducing the force to peace strength of about 75,000 officers and men, to a permanent strength of 25,000. The reductions included four brigadier general colonels, and seventeen lieutenant colonels to majors. The names of the officers were withheld temporarily.

U. S. Drys Stir British Government Disclaims Any
Support of Campaign

LONDON, July 30.—Answering a question in the House of Commons to-day as to whether the government would make it clear that the policy of the American prohibition campaign in England had no support from the government, Edward Shortt, the Home Secretary, said he did not consider such a pronouncement necessary.

W. E. Johnson, head of the London office of the Anti-Saloon League, is in charge of the prohibition propaganda against the sale of liquor in Great Britain. At present chief attention is being centred by the league on Scotland.

R-34 Leaves Pulham for
Her Base in Scotland

LONDON, July 30.—The giant British dirigible R-34, which landed at Pulham, Norfolk, on July 13, after making the first transatlantic dirigible flight, left to-day for East Fortune, Scotland, the point from which it started for the United States.

The R-34 circled over London at low altitude during the trip, and was cheered by excited crowds.

Girl, 17, Held for Dropping
Day-Old Baby Six Stories

Lucy Murrell, seventeen years old, of 105 Hudson Street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of homicide. She is accused of causing the death of her one-day-old baby by letting it fall six stories from the window of a factory on Canal Street.

Pale Postage Stamps To
Be Replaced by Old Kind

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Pale postage stamps, which came into use along with metallic Tuesday and Wednesday stamps, will be replaced by the old stamps on Monday. The new stamps were issued in the department from established usage occasioned by the war.

William H. Wilson, chief of the Bureau of Engraving, says the bureau, working twenty-four hours a day, has caught up with the tremendous demands made by the issuance of new bonds, revenue stamps and money, and that postage stamps hereafter will be engraved as of yore, instead of being produced by a cheaper printing process.

French Honor Kroonland on Farewell Trip

Stars and Stripes Hailed as
St. Nazaire Closes Career
as Debarkation Port for United States Transports

Youngest Man Back
Michael Bourdain, 14, Who
Was Civilian Interpreter,
May Be Adopted Here

Officers arriving on the transport Kroonland yesterday held of an impressive ceremony accorded her by the French navy as she passed for the last time homebound from St. Nazaire. That port has now reverted to French control and is no longer used as a port of debarkation by the A. E. F.

Shortly after the Kroonland weighed anchor three French men of war were in waiting as an escort of honor. As the four vessels passed Belle Isle thousands of French sailors and marines, in addition to many doughboys and gobs, could be seen lining the sea wall standing at rigid attention.

The Stars and Stripes were dipped in salute and then a roar of cheering "Vive les Américains!" "Vive l'Armée Américaine!" echoed across the narrow channel. The troops on deck sent back "three good ones and a tiger." At dusk the French ships returned to port.

The largest unit included in the 3,642 officers and men aboard the Kroonland was the headquarters of the Tank Corps, commanded by Brigadier General Samuel D. Rodenhurst, who went on board with General Pershing and until assigned to the organization of the Tank Corps was the commander in chief of the quartermaster general. He was accompanied by his staff, including Colonel Robert L. Collins, Lieutenant Colonel D. W. T. Grubb, Major General George J. Cosby, Lieutenant R. V. K. Harris and Lieutenant John Casey.

Soldier May Adopt Lad

The Kroonland had the distinction of bringing the youngest number of the A. E. F. He is Michael Bourdain, fourteen years old, dark haired and blue eyed. He stands five feet two inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, and wears the Spangh head on the collar of his blouse, denoting a civilian interpreter. He says he speaks "Amurican" and "Engleish." He was accompanied by Sergeant A. A. Murphy, who said he had permission of the lad's parents to adopt him.

Bourdain helped his aged parents of a little farm at Mame-et-Lore, in Brittany, and when the 32d American train camped there he thought they were the finest soldiers he had ever seen, and immediately started to learn English. He had been in school the little English he learned in school. The 32d Ammunition Train moved on and were followed by the 54th Coast Artillery. "Mike" had accumulated quite a vocabulary of words, and was unable to the new arrivals, none of whom spoke French. Soon they found that they could not do without him, so he was given a uniform and put on a French military cap, and was preferred at 225 francs a month. His parents moved to Bordeaux and opened a grocery store on Mike's savings.

Boatwain James Tinney Dies

While in midocean the Kroonland received a wireless call from a cargo steamer, the W. W. Tinney, asking medical advice in regard to treatment of a sailor who had fallen down the forward hatch, and suffered internal injuries. Lieutenant Commander Charles Whitmore, U. S. N., the medical officer on board the Kroonland, wirelessd detailed instructions, but word was received that the man's condition was failing, so, according to the two vessels met, the man was transferred in an open boat to the Kroonland and was operated on by the medical staff here. Boatwain James Tinney, 113 Lafayette Street, Jersey City, recently discharged.

Aboard the Kroonland there were thirty-two American brides, and by Miss Marjorie Howard, of 60 West Seventy-sixth Street, a Y. M. C. A. canteen worker.

Churchill Opposes State
Entering Labor Dispute

War Minister Calls the Use of Armed Forces an Odious
Idea

LONDON, July 30.—The idea of employing the forces of the state to interfere in a dispute between capital and labor, to advance the interest of either side, is odious, Winston Spencer Churchill, the Minister of War, declared in the House of Commons last night.

Mr. Churchill pointed out there is no strike-breaking anywhere in the United Kingdom at present. The men of a free country, he continued, was that the people should have the right to fight out their disputes within reasonable limits, and that force must never be employed in quarrels where private interests was the moving impulse. However, he said the position the government was taking, and which had been accepted, was that where the state was challenged, and where the life and the welfare of the community as a whole are endangered, the state must use all the resources at its disposal to fight without flinching to the bitter end.

One New Article Is Recommended After Complaints of Injustice Are Examined

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Thirty changes in articles of war and one new article, the effect of which was not made public by Secretary of War Baker, have been recommended to the War Department by the special board of army officers which has been engaged for two months in considering changes in the present system of military justice.

Recommendations of the board, which was composed of Major General F. J. Kernan, of the regular army; Major General John E. O'Ryan, of the New York National Guard, and Lieutenant Colonel R. W. Ruggles, of Boston, a reserve officer in the judge advocate general's department, will be submitted to Congress soon.

The board was appointed by Secretary Baker when the existing system of military justice was vigorously attacked by former Acting Judge Advocate General S. T. Amell, Senator Chamberlain and others in the early months of this year. Expressions of opinion on the system were invited, and more than 200 replies were considered.

"Many specific suggestions for changes were included in the letters," said a statement issued by the War Department to-day, "and the board has adopted such of these as appeared likely to better the system. It may be said, however, that the board upon the whole finds no radical defects, and it attributes the greater part of the just criticisms not to inherent faults of the system but to the inexperienced personnel called upon to administer it in a time of stress, and when the great thing was to get 400,000 men quickly in shape for the fighting line."

Pershing to Get Evidence

Baker Says as Alleged Wrongs
Were in France They Should
Be Referred to the General

WASHINGTON, July 30.—All the developments in the hearings now being conducted by the special committee of Congress in New York will be sent to General Pershing, who is asking for an ascertain if disciplinary measures are justified against Colonel W. W. Harris and other high officers accused by the soldier witnesses, Secretary Baker said to-day.

"The War Department undoubtedly will be fully advised of the developments of the hearings now in progress," Mr. Baker said, "and when the data has been submitted it will be sent to General Pershing with instructions for him to take the proper action."

Mr. Baker declined to comment further on the disclosures made by the committee headed by Representative Rogers, who is in New York, and who is in the hands of the committee in its hearings at Governor's Island. He was not disposed to make any statement directly affecting the charges against Colonel Harris, who formerly was the President's personal adjutant, but he said that the American He asserted, however, that he did not doubt that the hearings before the committee of Congress would be given careful consideration by the War Department and by General Pershing, emphasizing the point that inasmuch as the alleged wrongs were committed in France, they should rightly be referred to the American commander abroad for report.

No Removal of Dead Till
U. S. Army Quits France

Chairman of House Foreign Affairs Committee Says Such
Pledge Was Given in Paris

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Return of the bodies of American soldiers who fell in France cannot begin until all American troops have been withdrawn, in accordance with an agreement made by the State Department with the French government, Representative Porter, Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, said to-day.

"Our government solemnly promised to bring back our soldier dead, and has confirmed that promise by asking the next of kin their wishes in the matter," declared Mr. Porter. "It is a sacred promise with those who gave their all, and must be kept."

In February, 1919, a bill was introduced in the French Chamber of Deputies to postpone the removal of all bodies until three years after the signing of peace, he said. The American government protested and the French government has taken no further action. According to the testimony of General March, it is entirely practicable to remove American soldier dead without the use of the French railroads or in any way disturbing the French people.

As the result of sending an inquiry to do relatives of dead soldiers, the War Department received 52,000 replies of which 75 per cent favored return of the bodies, said Representative Porter.

BERLIN, July 30 (By The Associated Press).—Representatives of Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian government at Omsk, have arrived in Berlin to protect the interests of non-Bolshevik Russians.

The so-called Russian committee is not regarded as a diplomatic mission, but the German minister of the interior is co-operating with the committee in regard to passports for Russian citizens.

Villa Organizes "Army of East" To War on Diaz

Names Constantino Galvan,
Vera Cruz Rebel Leader,
to Head Force and Orders
a Relentless Campaign

MEXICO CITY, July 15 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Francisco Villa, from Chihuahua, has named Constantino Galvan, a rebel operating in Vera Cruz and Oaxaca, head of the "Army of the East," according to statements credited by the capital press to Colonel Felix Rincon Gallardo, military commander in the Cordoba-Santa Lucracia sector of Vera Cruz. The colonel adds that Villa's letter, containing this appointment, also instructed Galvan to wage relentless warfare against Felix Diaz, as reported in dispatches to-day from Mexico City, presages an attempt on Villa's part to gain control of all of Mexico outside of that in which Carranza forces dominate.

According to reports here, Felix Diaz has been conducting a campaign against Carranza in Southern Mexico for several years, but as reports received here indicate that his fortunes have not improved in several months, it is regarded as possible that Villa's campaign may eliminate him from the field. Diaz is considered the leader of the old "Centinote" section, survivors of the regime of Porfirio Diaz, an uncle of the rebel leader.

According to reports here, Felix Diaz sent General Manuel Mondragon to the north several months ago to consult Villa and General Angeles, who recently was proclaimed "Provisional President" of Mexico by Villa following, regarding plans for combining forces against Carranza. Not only was the project spurned by the Villistas, but General Mondragon barely escaped with his life.

Resolution Bars
Arms to Mexico

Hudspeth House Measure
Would Prohibit Export
of Any War Munitions

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Congress would declare itself opposed to exportation into Mexico of any arms or munitions of war under a resolution introduced to-day by Representative Hudspeth, Democrat of Texas.

The resolution asserts that inasmuch as the existing embargo on shipment of arms into Mexico permits certain exceptions, Congress should go on record as opposing any exportation whatever.

President Wilson, through a proclamation made public several days ago, directed no arms or munitions of any kind should be sent into Mexico except under such limitations as might be prescribed by the Secretary of State.

That inasmuch as the President of the United States has found that there exist in Mexico conditions of domestic violence, promoted by the use of arms and munitions of war procured from the United States, as expressed in an embargo proclamation dated July 12, 1919, and inasmuch as he has, in consequence, forbidden the exportation to that country of all arms or munitions of war, except under limitations and exceptions to be prescribed by the Secretary of State, it is the sense of Congress that this measure shall be administered impartially and without limitation or exception as to any citizens or authorities of the republic of Mexico."

Mexico Holds American
In Alleged Rail Frauds

MEXICO CITY, July 30 (By The Associated Press).—The arrest of Davis Morris, an American, general superintendent of the express system, and Felipe Pescador, former general director of the Mexican National Railways, was ordered to-day by the District Court, as the result of an investigation of railroad affairs.

Morris and Pescador were charged with irregularities in the financial affairs of the railways.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Reports of graft in connection with operation of the Mexican railways have been current for some months and have reached the State Department.

The forms of graft charged included the stripping of the cars of all their woodwork and iron equipment, leaving the wreckage on the trucks. Hundreds of these cars, it is reported, have been discovered outside of Nuevo Laredo, near the American boundary, and other hundreds in the interior of Mexico. Another form of graft alleged is that all the ties for all railroad work in the Mexican Republic had to be supplied from Pescador's estate.

53 Are Reported Slain
In Mexican Train Hold-Up

EL PASO, Tex., July 30.—Mexico City papers received here to-day gave meagre details of the hold-up of a passenger train on the railroad between Mexico City and Vera Cruz last week in which fifty-three passengers were reported killed.

The train was held up and robbed by bandits who fired into the passenger coaches, according to the newspaper reports. No Americans or foreigners were known to have been among those killed.
